Please remember that you remain responsible for your personal safety and the welfare of your vehicle.

Your Motorhome can be damaged during the winter months in freezing weather conditions, so there are some things that you should consider to prevent potentially expensive repairs...

Read On For Advice On Winter Precautions ...

At all times please observe your vehicle manufacturers instructions and guidelines for your safety and the preservation of your vehicle.

Winter Precautions

During the autumn months it is essential to empty the water systems before a frost occurs. This includes water heaters, tanks, pipes/valves, taps & toilet systems. This is because frost can cause a lot of damage which may not be covered by your warranty or insurance.

The water heater is probably the most vulnerable and the most expensive item to replace. Familiarise yourself with the correct method of draining and storing safely.

If your vehicle is going to be left standing during the winter, careful consideration should be made regarding the vehicle and leisure batteries.

Some leisure batteries can go flat within a few weeks, even if nothing is drawing power. If you are able to plug your hook up lead into the mains (depending on model) you may be able to select which battery to charge.

Batteries should be charged once a fortnight for a minimum of 24 hours. If the vehicle battery cannot be charged from the onboard charger, charge the vehicle battery separately using a normal DIY charger (may need to be charged for 48 hours if low amperage output).

Note: If a battery is totally drained, very often the battery is damaged beyond a point of recovery after charging.

Ensure that the engine coolant anti-freeze is at the correct level and concentration, tyres are inflated to the correct pressure and an additive is added to the windscreen washer bottle to prevent freezing. Check the vehicle handbook for any other precautions that may be advised.

Gas bottles need to be switched off and stored in a well ventilated area in an upright position. If you do use your van in the colder months you must use propane (red bottles) to prevent the gas from freezing.

Do not forget about your motorhome. Make regular visits to ensure everything is in good condition. Your vehicle will benefit from being driven occasionally to keep the engine, transmission and brakes in good condition.
